President's Message

While the rest of the world is celebrating the beginning of a new year, we Irish are celebrating the beginning of Green Season! I hope you all had a good Christmas and your new year has started out well.

Preparations have already started for Proclamation Day, the St. Patrick's Day Parade and the Irish Family Reunion. The information for these events can be found in the Seanachai and on our website.

We were able to get some yearly cleaning tasks completed over the winter shut down. Thank you to all that were able to come out and help.

Beginning in January we will be having two General Meetings a month thru April. At the first meeting on January 8th, I will be announcing my Awardees and unveiling the 2024 Parade Badge. The 2 meetings in March (3rd & 10th) will be preceded by Mass at 2:00 pm and the meeting will follow.

We have a few events in January. The Past Presidents will be gathering for their annual luncheon on the 6th and we have Quiz Night on the 12th. The Clann na nGael Irish dart tournament is on the 13th, everyone is encouraged

Chaplain's Comments

Happy New Year! I'm certain that your holiday celebrations were busy, wonderful and tiring! For clergy, the Christmas season is a real workout. But now that it is in the past, we can give thanks to God for the blessings of the Season, and turn our attention to other matters, namely: OUR PREPARATIONS FOR OUR ANNUAL CELEBRATION OF ST. PATRICK'S DAY AND OUR IRISH HERITAGE! Let me assure you that our Club President, Nancy, needs your help in filling all of the roles and responsibilities that go with the glorious day. The necessary tasks, etc. need willing and able volunteers to make St. Patrick's Day a success. More will be coming at the meetings, and through the Seanachai. Stay tuned!

With the New Year comes a golden opportunity to take stock of our personal lives, our priorities, and our responsibilities. It's also a good time to take a good look at our spiritual life. You know, Covid and all the restrictions it brought with it have had a bad effect on our religious involvement. To compensate for the temporary church closings during the height of the epidemic, many of our parishes took to broadcasting Sunday Mass on the internet. This was intended to help give parishioners an opportunity to keep in touch with weekly mass, with music, homilies, etc. After the worst of the epidemic was past, we clergy noticed to come cheer on their organization's team. Later in the month on the 26th the Pints will be entertaining us in the Pub.

Lastly, but importantly, please renew your membership soon. You can renew online, in the Pub or by mail.

I hope to see you soon.

that our weekly attendance numbers fell drastically. In my own experience, a number of catholic folks told me how much they enjoyed watching Sunday Mass on the internet – even to the point of tuning in to other parishes! One young man told me he heard lots and lots of good homilies by watching several! I asked him if he had started going back to attending mass in person, he said he did not. I'm wondering whether or not there are many others who are doing the same thing. The only problem is that these on-line masses are primarily celebrated for shut-ins unable to get to Church, as well as those who are sick and at home with the flu, etc. the problem: YOU CAN'T GET THE HOLY EUCHARIST WITHOUT GOING TO CHURCH! Without making an effort to attend mass each week, we can easily see our spiritual life as well as our moral life deteriorating – our Catholic Faith is many things but an important part of being Catholic is gathering with the community and worshipping on Sundays. So, if you haven't been to mass in a while, try going – the good Lord always has something to say to us each week at mass. Remember what Jesus said when he stated that He was the vine, and we are the branches. If we separate ourselves from the true vine, we wither and even perhaps, die spiritually.

Remember always, a journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step – if we haven't been to the Church of our choice, taking that first step will help us get back on track! Please don't say to your children and young people: "since God has been so good to you, the least you can do is to give Him 1 hour a week." The problem with this is that we go to Church to receive what only God can give us: strength and grace to live as Christians in a world and society that could care less. And the truth is, we need to be reminded each week of the life Jesus calls us to, which is hard to remember in our busy lives. For me, Sunday worship is a kind of spiritual oasis that we can go to and receive peace, a rest from the busyness of life, and an opportunity to allow the Lord to speak to our hearts. God calls, but it's up to each of us to respond.

May you have many blessings in 2024!

In Christ,

Msgr. John Kelly Cody, chaplain

New Pub Rules

We recently reached out and received clarification from the Ohio Department of Liquor Control regarding our day membership policy at the pub. Their response was, "The D-4 statute requires "yearly dues." Due to this, the DOLC does not believe that the D-4 can have daily memberships. Also, if a "daily" dues payment is allowed this would make you equivalent to any other retail permit holder, who doesn't have to limit their sales to members. If you would like to apply, nothing would prohibit you from holding a D-1-2-3 or a D-5 permit. Also, you must maintain their roster of members to submit to the Division upon request."

Therefore, while non-member guests cannot start a tab, pay with cash, or in any way purchase alcohol, they are more than welcome to purchase a yearly membership. The easiest way is through the purchase of a pub membership because that membership level does not require board approval. Obviously we would prefer that folks join as Senior, General, or Family members but they would have to wait for Board approval before enjoying pub patron benefits.

How will this look at the Pub?

- Non-member guests can purchase a Pub Membership directly from staff or through the website.
- We will have a New Pub Member roster behind the bar for those who want to join in person. They simply have to enter their name, address, email and phone number and that's it, they're a member of the Club!
- We will maintain a current list of members behind the bar for staff reference.

What about facility rentals?

- Only club members can rent the club.
- If they opt for a host tab guests do not have to have a yearly membership because they are not directly purchasing alcohol.
- If the event is a cash bar, a flat Pub Membership fee (undetermined to date) will be added to their contract and rental fee structure and guests will have to sign the Membership roster.

We will be working through the sure-to-be million variations of the above scenarios and are asking for your patience, help, and great ideas to make sure we're in compliance.

Andy's Corner ¹

"Wells" - A Deep Subject

It is not uncommon for a child to ask their parents a lot of questions while growing up. I was no different, but when I did not receive a timely answer, I would persist with, "Well?" To which my Dad would answer, "That's a deep subject." Of course, this would lead to more confusion as I struggle to not only find the answer to my original question, but also the meaning of his response. Perhaps it was intended to cause deep thought or meditation. Today it is part of the reverence I have for my Dad and his subtle wisdom and humor.

In Ireland, wells are also the cause of similar reverence and meditation. There are over 3,000 recorded holy wells around the country that date back to pre-Christian Celtic days. Those wells were a connection to the land and a place to worship their Celtic deities. Wells took on the shape of small pools, cisterns, wooded groves, and other physical features. As with many Celtic (i.e., pagan) practices, these wells became a place of Christian worship associated with many of the Irish saints. The wells and their associated waters were thought to have curative powers and pilgrims would leave tokens to obtain the favors of the patron saints.

I first became aware of these holy wells when reading about St. Brigid and the many customs related to her veneration. Her most popular well is located in Liscannor, County Clare, not far from the Cliffs of Mohr. Visitors travel to this well for healing and will make rounds, or patterns as they are called, around the well, while reciting prayers. Upon completion, visitors took a sip of the well's healing waters. Another way of obtaining healing is to leave a bit of cloth on a nearby tree. It was thought that whatever disease or ailment was afflicting you, that it would be transferred to the tree on these bits of cloth. In recent years, people would hang masks on the tree seeking protection from the COVID virus.

During my trip to the auld sod in August of last year, I visited two wells. One quite by accident. While on Achill Island, we stopped to see a tower once belonging to the pirate queen Grace O'Malley. The signage at the site made reference to the holy well of St. Dymphna, patron saint of mental health, just up the road at the foot of an old graveyard. As we followed the signs, I searched for its location. Just beyond the cemetery fence, almost overlooked, was a small white cross and a hollowed depression. While not as elaborate as the well of St. Brigid, finding this humble shrine along the coastal waters, might surely bring relief to one seeking its curative powers. The other was in Gougane Barra, County Cork, dedicated to St. Finbar. This well was part of a full complex of meditative cells and prayer stations. The pattern consisted of repetition of prays at each station. Nearby is a small chapel on the picturesque lake with towering hills as the backdrop. This is a popular tourist site, and I was told one of Patrick Kelley's daughters was married at the chapel.

This is indeed a deep subject, as Dad would say, and I've left out a lot of details. However, as we approach St. Brigid's feast the first of next month, this may be a chance for you to go down that well, and go on a pilgrimage of your own to learn more about the saints and their holy wells. The Irish Heritage Council has put out a nice pamphlet with a lot of good information on the subject (<https://www.heritagecouncil.ie/content/files/Holy-Wells-of-Ireland.pdf>).
